 200,870,145	We just do not know. We think the Carolinas, but we need to be sure we will be accepted.	Friday, Jul 13th 5:10PM
 200,870,101	used to the west coast, not too far from family/friends	Friday, Jul 13th 4:39PM
 200,869,921	Pennsylvania	Friday, Jul 13th 5:13PM
 200,865,119	Chose Florida for its climate. Will be snowbird, and then up to the Northeast in the summer to be near family and friends.	Friday, Jul 13th 1:57PM
 200,864,017	Familiarity with the state. Good medical facilities. Cultural opportunities.	Friday, Jul 13th 1:17PM
 200,863,920	Been living here for almost 40m years. Possibility of moving in the future	Friday, Jul 13th 1:22PM
 200,862,521	Ohio	Friday, Jul 13th 12:46PM
 200,862,495	AR is where we are and will stay if the state seems retiree friendly in a few years. Right now the government is decidedly against us. We need social nets here. We need retirement benefits.	Friday, Jul 13th 10:56AM
 200,859,954	Illinois (only because my family is here) otherwise this state SUCKS! Corrupt government, high taxes.	Friday, Jul 13th 11:36AM
 200,853,899	We live here currently, but not sure if we'll stay or move in retirement.	Friday, Jul 13th 9:10AM
 200,851,263	I want to explore some states out west before deciding on where to retire. I have time, I'm still young. I retired after 27 yrs as a Police Officer and am working full time while putting my 2 girls through college. We are planning out and visiting states while we are still working.	Friday, Jul 13th 8:15AM
 200,851,251	I want to explore some states out west before deciding on where to retire. I have time, I'm still young. I retired after 27 yrs as a Police Officer and am working full time while putting my 2 girls through college. We are planning out and visiting states while we are still working.	Friday, Jul 13th 7:57AM
 200,833,100	Nevada was my childhood home / Excellent tax structure / Family lives there already / Conservative political atmosphere / Wide open country ...	Thursday, Jul 12th 8:47PM
 200,831,657	At present I'm staying right where I am, in Illinois. Yeah, the state is nearly bankrupt and taxes are high (eg. sales, property, gas) but retirement income is not taxed which helps.	Thursday, Jul 12th 8:27PM
 200,830,459	albama	Thursday, Jul 12th 8:09PM
 200,824,786	more rural and relaxed atmosphere	Thursday, Jul 12th 5:33PM
 200,823,472	the beauty of the state and the nice people in it	Thursday, Jul 12th 4:46PM
 200,823,451	Low taxes, good weather, many flights to family and friends in NY	Thursday, Jul 12th 4:45PM
 200,821,929	S.Dakota	Thursday, Jul 12th 3:57PM

 200,820,832	Tennessee	Thursday, Jul 12th 3:22PM
 200,820,307	We will be retiring to either RI or Mass to be near our son and his family. Since he is our only child and there is now a grandchild on the way, being close to family takes top priority! We live in NH now, but it takes 90 minutes each way to visit, so it will be nicer to spend less time on the road and more time with the "kids."	Thursday, Jul 12th 2:46PM
 200,820,228	Pa	Thursday, Jul 12th 3:01PM
 200,817,921	lower cost of living for california is much too expensive to live in with ever increasing taxes, gasoline prices well above average and proposed eventual add of a up to 70 cent PER gallon more in addition to last 43 % increase this year. As a senior it is a vital concern	Thursday, Jul 12th 1:25PM
 200,815,980	Current possible choices: Tennessee or Kentucky	Thursday, Jul 12th 12:21PM
 200,815,700	the pacific northwest is fabulously gorgeous	Thursday, Jul 12th 12:06PM
 200,814,983	Great downtown and loads of outdoor activities i.e. hiking, boating, skiing, Oregon Coastal walks, and the Wallemette Valley wineries.	Thursday, Jul 12th 11:42AM
 200,814,414	Southern states are too hot and too backwardly conservative.	Thursday, Jul 12th 11:24AM
 200,812,573	Climate, tax breaks for those over 65, medical care, cost of living	Thursday, Jul 12th 10:33AM
 200,811,819	I've narrowed it down to 3 areas that I'm looking at: Missouri, South Dakota, Arkansas. Mainly for the lower cost of living,taxes, and outdoor activities. I don't mind the 4 seasons.	Thursday, Jul 12th 9:52AM
 200,811,632	Michigan- close to family as we get older/ sicker. Otherwise area has nothing going for it.	Thursday, Jul 12th 9:57AM
 200,811,613	Ohio - affordable, temperate climate	Thursday, Jul 12th 10:05AM
 200,810,433	Tennessee	Thursday, Jul 12th 9:22AM
 200,810,194	Nevada - enjoy area's activities and casinos, diversity of entertainment and recreational venues, no state income taxes, low crime rate in Henderson and area exhibits solid financial condition.	Thursday, Jul 12th 9:15AM
 200,810,073	Kentucky	Thursday, Jul 12th 9:09AM
 200,809,557	Low taxes	Thursday, Jul 12th 8:54AM
 200,809,474	natural enviornment and weather	Thursday, Jul 12th 8:50AM
 200,809,373	Topography & climate	Thursday, Jul 12th 8:42AM
 200,808,499	I ended up in SC because of my last job in NC and the home I am in now is like a retirement haven	Thursday, Jul 12th 8:37AM
 	Lower overall cost of living; near family; moderate climate	Thursday, Jul 12th 8:16AM

200,808,046
200,806,911	 Sunny		Thursday, Jul 12th 7:42AM
200,806,605	 Many opportunities to live near the water; relatively low cost of living; access to quality medical facilities; ease of travel to the North East.		Thursday, Jul 12th 7:25AM
200,806,143	 Pennsylvania		Thursday, Jul 12th 7:06AM
200,805,752	 PENNA		Thursday, Jul 12th 6:46AM
200,805,095	 MOVED TO NCTO FINISH MY CAREER AND THEN TO RETIRE HERE.		Thursday, Jul 12th 6:14AM
200,804,460	 taxes and winter weather		Thursday, Jul 12th 5:47AM
200,804,330	 Minnesota		Thursday, Jul 12th 5:41AM
200,804,128	 Snowbird		Thursday, Jul 12th 5:31AM
200,802,566	 PA		Thursday, Jul 12th 4:11AM
200,798,529	 By the sea... cost of living on a retirement income...quality of life...have to love the history.		Thursday, Jul 12th 12:26AM
200,797,857	 Algave, Portugal, Ambergris Cayenne, Belize		Thursday, Jul 12th 12:09AM
20	 I have always lived here. You can find all types of weather and activities here. Plus I love the ocean.		Wednesday, Jul 11th 11:54PM
200,795,811	 It had the best combination of factors for me altho' several other states are also appealing.		Wednesday, Jul 11th 10:11PM
200,795,395	 Wyoming		Wednesday, Jul 11th 9:31PM
200,795,220	 TN		Wednesday, Jul 11th 9:30PM
200,794,761	 Mild winters and close enough to Southern California to only be a few hours drive away from family and friends.		Wednesday, Jul 11th 8:54PM
200,794,627	 Arkansas, cost of living, beautiful area.		Wednesday, Jul 11th 9:07PM
200,794,437	 I got stuck in California retiring during the recession and taking care of my mother whom I'd moved here from the Midwest. She passed away and other than the weather and some of the scenery I don't like it here. My family is in the freezing cold Midwest and the humid southeast plagued by thunderstorms and hurricanes and neither are appealing to me. Not sure where to go.		Wednesday, Jul 11th 8:22PM
200,794,186	 Tennessee		Wednesday, Jul 11th 8:34PM
	 Tennessee		Wednesday, Jul 11th 8:34PM

200,794,135		8:55PM
	If I were to stay in the U.S. I would choose a state with legalized recreational marijuana.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 7:57PM
200,793,509
	This is still very much up in the air.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 7:57PM
200,793,352
	Not sure about relocating yet, but Western Oregon meets many of my top preferences for a retirement location.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 7:55PM
200,793,306
	NY	Wednesday, Jul 11th 7:37PM
200,792,868
	I chose Arizona because of reasonable cost of living and somewhat close to family in CA and CO.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 7:26PM
200,792,744
		Wednesday, Jul 11th 7:28PM
	Alabama
20  23	Tennessee	Wednesday, Jul 11th 7:27PM
200,792,303
	Mississippi- in suburbs, all you need per the factors listed. Tennessee would be the next choice.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 7:19PM
200,792,215
	We've been in Virginia for 14 years. It's a well run, well balanced state. We're still looking around and could end up in NC or DE. Very likely, we will stay in VA and snowbird in the winter months	Wednesday, Jul 11th 7:07PM
200,792,176
	I chose north and south Carolinas as well as Tennessee because of their mild climate and low cost of living.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 7:12PM
200,792,163
	South Carolina >>> Georgia >>> North Carolina >>> Tennessee	Wednesday, Jul 11th 7:02PM
200,792,022
	tn	Wednesday, Jul 11th 7:09PM
200,791,974

200,791,794
	Wisconsin	Wednesday, Jul 11th 6:48PM
200,791,344
	Love to golf, so Arizona is perfect... taxes are favorable..... no humidity or hurricanes.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 6:26PM
200,790,950
	Love to golf, so Arizona is perfect... taxes are favorable..... no humidity or hurricanes.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 6:26PM
200,790,947
	Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 6:19PM
200,790,693
	Michigan	Wednesday, Jul 11th 6:17PM
200,790,595
	Definitely a state that does not tax SS pension etc. My worry is housing	Wednesday, Jul 11th 6:04PM
200,790,353
	We are both retired, and live in Florida. We like it here - and cannot imagine living in another state.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 5:42PM
200,789,854

 200,789,792	Have lived on the coast of Florida (Vero Beach) for 46 years, coming from NY.....sick of the constant heat, hurricanes...and too many people have discovered Vero Beach, impossible to go out for dinner etc. during "season".....miss the season changes however slight, miss the topography, hills, waterfalls, mountains etc. rather be somewhere where I am closer to the above.....NC, SC, GA.....but not too cold! Still looking....hard to find	Wednesday, Jul 11th 5:24PM
 200,789,560	Plan to stay in il, but if I moved no, taxes and weather	Wednesday, Jul 11th 5:29PM
 200,789,509	Climate, beaches, low cost of living	Wednesday, Jul 11th 5:34PM
 200,789,392	We are looking at northwestern South Carolina. Eastern Tennessee even north western Georgia.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 5:25PM
 200,789,354	we have been visiting this area for over 40 years	Wednesday, Jul 11th 5:19PM
 200,789,246	NV was midway between where two children live. Weather is superb, taxes are low, with legalized gambling and cannabis there is a lot of fun to be had.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 5:21PM
 200,789,240	Hawaii- we resided here for 40 years before retirement. Things that keep us here: The climate. Also, Hawaii does not tax federal or state pensions, and Social Security payments are tax free. We like our HMO: Kaiser Health Plan (which is not available in many other States). Things we don't like and might cause us to move in the future: Extremely high cost of living, unaffordability of housing, having to fly (expensively) to wherever we want to travel, and being too far away from our daughter (who grew up here, moved to the Mainland, and- along with most of her generation- can't afford to move back here.)	Wednesday, Jul 11th 5:15PM
 200,789,219	New Hampshire tax friendly for retirees next would be Florida or the Carolinas	Wednesday, Jul 11th 5:22PM
 200,788,749	WI - MN - IL - MI ... based on weather, culture and people	Wednesday, Jul 11th 5:07PM
 200,788,737	tennesse	Wednesday, Jul 11th 5:05PM
 200,788,560	Big Island Hawaii. Daughter may move there. We've been 4 times and love the perfect weather and friendly people.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 4:56PM
 200,788,518	Tennessee for its low cost of living and tax friendly appeal. Small town feel with lots of recreation availability but also college/university possibilities.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 4:55PM
 200,788,376	Our kids live here, but not too close!	Wednesday, Jul 11th 4:52PM
 200,788,326	currently live in NJ. taxes too high. Delaware next closest state with low taxes. Children/grands currently live in NJ so don't want to move farther away.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 4:32PM
 200,788,255	TX or TN	Wednesday, Jul 11th 4:46PM
 200,787,869	Low taxes Low cost of living Satisfactory climate	Wednesday, Jul 11th 4:37PM
 200,787,797	Don't knoe.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 4:29PM
 200,787,749	We have a place in Central Florida (it was my parents). We are also considering Texas Hill Country and Lake Havasu City or Apache Junction area in AZ.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 4:09PM

 200,787,739	Chose not listed as I investigate the problems afflicting each State, such as deficits, failure to pay their interest due on muni bonds, corruption, city violence, taxes and proximity to good Hospitals. I just discovered that South Carolina has been storing U.S. radioactive waste, and buying waste from Germany.....the process of where to retire is very complex as one researches a State.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:37PM
 200,787,569	Addresses multiple factors which matter to us.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 4:19PM
 200,787,495	Low taxes, lower home prices, near water	Wednesday, Jul 11th 4:21PM
 200,787,350	Taxes Climate Medical Friends	Wednesday, Jul 11th 4:14PM
 200,787,184	Tennessee, as listed earlier I like the low tax state and also the natural beauty of eastern TN living in the mountains and on Lake Douglas. People are generally more friendly in the South.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 4:04PM
 200,787,096	Currently VA. Later FL.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 4:03PM
 200,787,023	Relocating to be closer to kids/grandkids	Wednesday, Jul 11th 4:04PM
 200,786,778	MAKEUP OF POPULATION	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:55PM
 200,786,772	I am not sure where I would like to retire to.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:47PM
 200,786,640	Pa. I love my State! 2 hours to the beach or mountains. Lots of culture, history and outdoor activities. Why would I leave an area I love?	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:48PM
 200,786,624	Louisiana is home state with family, only child and only grandchild	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:43PM
 200,786,587	Taxes, access to ocean or bay.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:46PM
 200,786,513	Michigan - family, etc.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:46PM
 200,786,380	Missouri	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:35PM
 200,786,263	Tennessee	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:34PM
 200,786,202	Mainly for environment, lots of trees.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:32PM
 200,786,175	Pennsylvania or Virginia for taxes, proximity to many locations, 4 seasons	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:29PM
 200,786,137	I didn't want to leave California but could not afford a house. The weather is worse, but otherwise Oregon is a nice alternative, and of course is significantly more affordable (at least real estate wise)	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:22PM
 200,786,117	Wanted to get out of Illinois; looked at FL, GA, SC, NC, TN	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:26PM
 200,786,111	Tennessee	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:27PM

	Tennessee does not tax pensions or social security... I think!	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:15PM
200,785,992
	Utah	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:20PM
200,785,967
	Tennessee	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:16PM
200,785,919
	Low population and diversity of geography, climate, culture, and lack of fracking.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:12PM
200,785,825
	Eastern Tennessee. If not near water, then near mountains.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:09PM
200,785,775
	Eastern Tennessee. If not near water, then near mountains.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:09PM
200,785,745
	Great outdoor possibilities and activities. Liberal and welcoming climate. SUNSHINE.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:06PM
200,785,701
	Belize	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:06PM
200,785,595
	I will retire in Massachusetts as this is my home state. But would likely live near Atlanta with my eldest daughter and grand child.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:52PM
200,785,480
	Kentucky, Alabama	Wednesday, Jul 11th 3:00PM
200,785,444
	Considering Panama, Ecuador, Costa Rica or even Portugal	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:57PM
200,785,435
	Tennessee as it is close enough to drive home to relatives, low taxes, low cost of living.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:57PM
200,785,363
	Southern Oregon because of the weather. Much less rain than the rest of Oregon and barely a snowfall.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:52PM
200,785,344
	dry climate and scenic	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:50PM
200,785,170
	Lived there before while in the military. Like the climate and availability of resources	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:42PM
200,785,031
	Weather, relaxed environment	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:42PM
200,784,994
	depends on where I can best be accommodated. I like the Southwest or NJ/PA areas	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:07PM
200,784,986
	Eastern Pennsylvania (Bucks County) - favorable tax environment, lack of any extreme winter/summer weather, near multiple airports and cultural activities, historical/scenic areas	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:40PM
200,784,982
	Mississippi	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:38PM
200,784,952
	Arizona- lower housing cost than Washington where I live Texas- same as above Colorado- same as above	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:31PM
200,784,922

 200,784,921	Climate, tax benefits, healthcare, family	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:35PM
 200,784,908	Coastal Carolinas offer the best in coastal living, and not too far from excellent medical facilities. Cost of living is also reasonable.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:26PM
 200,784,689	Have ended up in Sierra Vista, AZ, cause apartment rent is what I can afford. Albuquerque, NM, was better but rents have been increasing too much. Florida is great state but too humid in the summer. Retired in Wichita, KS, but winters too cold.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:17PM
 200,784,685	Low population density	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:28PM
 200,784,655	Climate, low cost of living- we love Charleston!	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:21PM
 200,784,571	Born, raised, schooled and worked here.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:22PM
 200,784,522	Pennsylvania, within eight hour drive from north or south where our three daughters live.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:19PM
 200,784,515	Inverness, UK	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:15PM
 200,784,442	Lots of amenities nearby, and the beach!	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:18PM
 200,784,433	Lots of amenities nearby, and the beach!	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:18PM
 200,784,426	Already in Florida so would stay here or move further North in Florida as the South East gets more expensive and crowded.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:18PM
 20	Already live in Los Angeles area and plan to stay	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:14PM
 200,784,355	83 CT. Because family and friends live here.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:13PM
 200,784,338	Drier, warmer climate. Reduced allergy exposure.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:08PM
 200,784,285	We currently live in VT and we love the mountains and the seasons. Virginia has both, but with milder and shorter winters. In addition, the cost of living and taxes are actually lower in VA than in VT and we'll be closer to family!	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:07PM
 200,784,269	or NC	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:09PM
 200,784,232	Utah, Tennessee,	Wednesday, Jul 11th 1:45PM
 200,784,219	family nearby	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:07PM
 200,784,181	Alabama Looking for low cost of living, beautiful historic architecture, less frenzy, better life balance, etc.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 2:05PM
	retired in NC and love it, but can't afford to stay	Wednesday, Jul 11th 1:52PM

200,783,963
	Idaho - Boise Area, clean, less crowded, cost of living.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 1:55PM	200,783,928
	Hopefully, Wyoming, Montana or Idaho. So tired of the humidity in the southern states.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 1:52PM	200,783,874
	PA	Wednesday, Jul 11th 1:48PM	200,783,849
	Possibly Rhode Island	Wednesday, Jul 11th 1:46PM	200,783,835
	Close to grandchildren.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 1:47PM	200,783,786
	Oklahoma	Wednesday, Jul 11th 1:44PM	200,783,704
20  08	Wyoming-because there are less people and I can do all the outdoor activities I want and it is cheap with low taxes.	Wednesday, Jul 11th 1:42PM	200,783,704
	Pennsylvania - close to family & friends in MD/VA, no state income tax on retirement income, south-central region has lower property taxes and milder winters than most of the rest of PA	Wednesday, Jul 11th 1:39PM	200,783,699

	We love NYC and can afford to retire here but I had wanted to retire in Florida to play tennis and golf. My husband hates Florida so I have decided to give in and remain in NYC. Cost more to play but that's the price you have to pay to stay here. Great restaurants, theater, and medical can't be beat and it is a really walkable city that you can get around without driving well into your 90's. (We're not in our 80's.)  200,751,182	I like the 55+ communities I've visited in Florida. No state tax is also a benefit and I find the sales tax is reasonable. Not too far from the coast if you choose to live inland as I believe I will, and a major airport is never far away.	Tuesday, Jul 10th 2:31PM
 200,750,129	Located to Chicago IL. Live in a condo in the city near family and diverse cultural and entertainment opportunities.	Tuesday, Jul 10th 2:31PM
 200,747,070	1) Low cost of living. 2) Great weather. 3) Lots of huge "55 plus active adult" communities to select from. 4) Low taxes.	Tuesday, Jul 10th 12:08PM
 200,741,380	California would have been the #1 choice but it's not affordable.	Tuesday, Jul 10th 9:24AM
 200,740,497	Washington, DC. My local area has gentrified and I have easily adapted to it while maintaining my older styled habits, that obviously have been now rebranded.	Tuesday, Jul 10th 8:19AM
 200,740,016	I've lived in Florida for 45 years. I'm done with the climate, the flat land, the hurricanes, and the general attitude of the area. I'll gladly exchange alligators for bears!	Tuesday, Jul 10th 8:50AM
 200,738,192	ME or PA also on list	Tuesday, Jul 10th 7:49AM
 200,735,909	Tennessee, because we love the milder climate and love the vibe of Chattanooga. We're currently in a suburb of Chicago.	Tuesday, Jul 10th 6:36AM
 200,728,949	NV & AZ, lower cost of living, no high humidity, volcanoes, tsunamis or major quakes. But heat and water concerns. OR, I'm already here, tho' I don't like it. Like what CA used to be, but not what it is now. Southeast has too much humidity for me, I'm too old to learn to drive in snow.	Tuesday, Jul 10th 2:08AM
 200,722,456	Arizona has perfect climate and low cost of living and is close to Vegas. What more can one want? And to top it off I moved to the Tucson area which is the bright blue dot in the otherwise fairly red sea	Monday, Jul 9th 8:16PM
 200,721,488	weather	Monday, Jul 9th 7:27PM
 200,721,070	For my expected retirement income level, Georgia's $65,000 state income tax exclusion for retirees is equivalent to Florida's complete lack of state income tax. Neither Georgia nor Florida taxes cars as property on a yearly basis (unlike South Carolina, which does, for example). I would not want to pay an ever increasing car property tax on my classic car if it goes up in value in the future. The problem I have with selecting Florida is finding an area not prone to sinkholes in the areas that meet my other requirements. I can build a reinforced concrete house with concrete roof (basically hurricane proof) in a non-coastal area, but what good is it if it sinks into the ground, or is heavily surcharged on homeowners insurance due to that risk. I might have to choose Georgia just because of that.	Monday, Jul 9th 10:10AM
 200,718,369	Affordable housing	Monday, Jul 9th 5:16PM

 200,718,113	Arkansas is my choice. The choice was made after touring Hot Springs Village. The area is beautiful, there are many and varied activities and the folks are friendly.	Monday, Jul 9th 5:03PM
 200,717,220	Don't know yet. Possibly Ohio because family lives there.	Monday, Jul 9th 4:29PM
